

TAX CREDITS FOR MANUFACTURERS

Have you invested time or money in

- Design
- Development
- Improvement of products
- Formulas
- Processes
- LEAN Techniques

Then you may qualify for financial streams.

Brad Mols of alliantgroup, LP will provide information to help businesses determine if they may qualify for the R&D tax credit.

Brad will explore the intent of Congress in establishing the credit and the credit's evolution over the years, including the most recent changes that dramatically expanded the number and types of business that are eligible.

In order to demonstrate the scope of the benefits available, Brad will go through various case studies to show what kinds of activities actually qualify and then provide sample calculations.

Additionally, McKonly & Asbury will discuss federal/state tax updates focusing on current tax legislation impacting manufacturers and proposed legislation and its potential impact.
